

$250,000

For the team with the most innovative and inventive market-based, technological or entrepreneurial solution to advance the sustainability of Arizona's water future.

About the Prize

Teams are NOW invited to register for the Water Innovation Challenge, the second philanthropic prize competition offered under The New Arizona Prize.

The Water Innovation Challenge is offering $250,000 to a collaborative team in an Arizona community that develops the most innovative and inventive market-based, technological or entrepreneurial solution to advance the sustainability of its water future.

Thanks to a partnership with the WaterNow Alliance, the winner of the Water Innovation Challenge will benefit from as much as $50,000 in additional technical assistance to accelerate development and implementation of their winning solution.

Solutions must be scalable to address an entire Arizona town/city, county, tribe, or region and the winning solution should be replicable in other communities. Community collaborations are required and projects that are new, pilot, or shovel-ready are all acceptable. Every team must include at least one government (state, county, municipal, or federal) partner.
